MyPet Partners with the GCCF to Become the Official Recommended Supplier for Microchips

Enhancing Microchipping Services and Value for GCCF Members

MyPet, a leading provider of pet microchipping solutions in the UK, is proud to announce its new partnership with the Governing Council of the Cat Fancy (GCCF). Through this collaboration, MyPet has been designated as the GCCF's recommended supplier for microchips, aiming to deliver exceptional service and value to GCCF members for all their microchipping needs.

Commitment to Cat Welfare and Safety

The partnership between MyPet and the GCCF underscores a shared commitment to the welfare and safety of cats. By becoming the GCCF's recommended microchip supplier, MyPet ensures that cat owners within the GCCF community have access to reliable, high-quality microchipping services. This initiative is designed to streamline the microchipping process, making it more accessible and cost-effective for GCCF members.

GCCF Members Will Benefit From:

Value for Money: Competitive pricing and exclusive offers tailored for GCCF members make microchipping more affordable.

Seamless Integrations: MyPet and GCCF are exploring integrations to simplify processes and reduce administrative burdens for GCCF members, enhancing the overall experience.

Exciting Developments in Microchipping

"We are very excited to partner with the GCCF and become their recommended microchip supplier," said Conor McManus, Director at MyPet. "This partnership allows us to provide GCCF members with the best microchipping experience in the UK at the best possible price. This comes at a time when cat microchipping has just become mandatory in England, and we're hopeful other parts of the UK will follow suit and make cat microchipping mandatory."

GCCF Statement

"We knew how important microchipping is to cat's Welfare and decided to research the market to find the best partner for us, a company that believes in our values, offers the best product and services, and can offer great value for money, easy of use and convenience for our breeders and owners" Said Steve Crow, Chairman of GCCF "We found MyPet to be exceptional in all departments and are delighted to be embarking on this partnership."
